Campus Chemistry Resources

1. Help Desk or TA/FA Office Hours
   The Help Desk provides drop-in help for Chemistry 103, 104, 108, and 109. Organic chemistry courses have similar support with TA/FA office hours. Check with your instructor to see when this resource is available during Spring 2022 and in what room it will be held.

2. Instructor’s Office Hours
   Instructors have office hours available to assist students enrolled in their course. These will be announced at the beginning of the semester.

3. GUTS
   Greater University Tutorial Service (GUTS) provides tutoring in a variety of disciplines (e.g., math, chemistry, physics, etc.) and formats. Visit their web site at https://guts.wisc.edu/di/tutee/ to find information on drop-in tutoring hours and locations. Visit their web site at https://guts.wisc.edu/am/tutee/ to find information on academic match tutoring. To sign up for other tutoring services, visit their office in room 4413, Student Activity Center (SAC), contact them at 263-5666, or visit their website, https://guts.wisc.edu/

4. AXΣ
   Alpha Chi Sigma (AXΣ) is a co-ed chemistry fraternity that offers free chemistry tutoring on a drop-in basis, and is located at 621 N. Lake St. View the website at: http://alphachisigmaw.com/ for more information.

5. UWPLA
   UW Peer Learning Association (PLA) is a student organization that facilitates students-working-with-students in small student-facilitated study groups in many courses. Please visit their website https://win.wisc.edu/organization/pla for more information.

6. College of Engineering ULC
   The College of Engineering Undergraduate Learning Center (ULC) provides drop-in tutoring for Chemistry 103, 104, 109, 343, and 345 students along with math, physics, and engineering courses on the 4th floor of Wendt Library Commons. For more information visit: https://www.engr.wisc.edu/academics/student-services/ulc/

7. Paid Tutors
   The UW Chemistry Department posts a list of private organic tutors available for hire each term. This list is usually up-to-date after the second week of classes. The list can be found at: https://chem.wisc.edu/academic-support/
